1 Introduction: The Ma'ruf Vision

Ma'ruf, meaning "that which is known to be good" in Arabic, is a movement to center the human experience—emotions, relationships, and authentic connections—in a world of infinite change. Feelings, in all their highs and lows, are the heartbeat of Ma'ruf, guiding its mission to replace extractive systems with regenerative ones. This 50-year blueprint embeds Ma'ruf as a global infrastructure for equitable healthcare, activism, technology, and culture, ensuring humanity's emotional authenticity thrives amidst technological and societal evolution.
